

CLEANING BUSINESS AI GROWTH OS

AI Workflow Library

18 copy-and-paste workflows for leads, quotes, reviews, referrals and marketing.

AI Workflow Library

18 practical workflows for the messages and marketing a cleaning business writes every week. Each one tells you when to use it, what details to gather, the prompt to copy, what to check before sending, and where to record the result in your workbook.

Works with any general AI assistant. No paid API, plug-in or automation tool is required.

Ground rules

- AI drafts; you decide. Read every draft before you send it.
- Never paste passwords, door/lockbox codes, alarm codes, payment card numbers or ID numbers into an AI tool.
- Share only what the message needs: first name and job details are usually enough.
- AI must not make legal, safety, tax, accounting, insurance, hiring, pay or regulatory decisions. Those prompts are deliberately excluded — ask a qualified professional.
- AI can be confidently wrong. Check prices, dates, times and promises against your workbook before sending.
- Do not let AI invent reviews, testimonials, guarantees, certifications or before/after results.
- Follow the rules of each platform (Google, Facebook, Instagram) and local rules on texting and emailing customers.

Step 1 — Your business profile

Fill this in once, save it in a note, and paste it at the start of each AI chat. It makes every draft sound like your business.

```
MY BUSINESS PROFILE (paste once at the start of a chat, then reuse)
Business name: [Your Business Name]
Owner / signature name: [Your first name]
Services: [e.g., standard, deep, move-in/move-out, short-term rental turnovers, small offices]
Service area: [towns / neighborhoods]
Booking link or phone: [link or number]
Tone: [e.g., warm, clear, professional – no slang, no exclamation overload]
Things we never promise: [e.g., stain removal guarantees, same-day service]
Our policies (summarized in my own words): [cancellation notice, payment timing, pets, supplies]
```

Workflow index

#	Workflow	Use it when
01	Reply to a new lead	Within 15 minutes of a new inquiry (form, text, DM or voicemail). Speed matters more than perfection.
02	Turn customer details into a quote draft	After you price the job in QUOTE BUILDER and want a clear written quote.
03	Quote follow-up	2 days after sending a quote with no booking yet.
04	No-response follow-up (last touch)	After 2-3 unanswered follow-ups. Closes the loop politely and keeps the door open.
05	Appointment confirmation	When a job is booked, and again the day before.
06	Rescheduling message	You need to move a job (illness, weather, overbooking) or the customer asks to.
07	Review request	Same day or next day after a job that went well (QC pass, happy customer).
08	Respond to a review	Within 48 hours of any review — positive, mixed or negative.
09	Referral request	After a 5-star review, a compliment, or the 3rd-4th recurring visit.
10	Reactivate a past customer	CUSTOMERS shows 'Reactivate' (no job for 90+ days by default).
11	Google Business Profile post	Weekly. Keeps your profile active and gives searchers a reason to call.
12	Facebook post	2-3 times a week; local groups only where the group rules allow business posts.
13	Instagram caption	With every before/after, team or tip post.
14	Answer a service FAQ	A customer asks a question you answer often (supplies, pets, keys, what's included).
15	Commercial cleaning proposal draft	An office, clinic, studio or retail space asks for a proposal.
16	Employee task instructions	Turning your notes into a clear job sheet or task for a cleaner.
17	Customer complaint response	A customer reports a missed area, late arrival, damage concern or billing question.
18	Weekly marketing ideas	Monday planning. Pairs well with your MONTHLY and DASHBOARD numbers.

01 • Reply to a new lead

When to use	Gather first
Within 15 minutes of a new inquiry (form, text, DM or voicemail). Speed matters more than perfection.	Lead's first name, how they contacted you, what they asked for, property details they gave, your next available openings.

Act as the friendly office manager for my cleaning business. Use my business profile above. A new lead just contacted us. Write a reply I can send by [text / email].

Lead details:

- First name: [name]
- Contacted us via: [channel]
- What they asked: [paste their message]
- Property details they gave: [size, bedrooms, bathrooms, pets, condition – or "not given"]
- My next openings: [days/times]

Requirements:

1. Thank them by first name and confirm what they need in one sentence.
 2. If size, bedrooms, bathrooms, cleaning type or frequency are missing, ask for ONLY the missing items, as a short numbered list.
 3. Offer two specific appointment windows from my openings.
 4. Do not quote a price yet unless I included one here.
 5. Under 90 words for a text, under 150 for email. End with my first name.
- Give me two versions: one warm, one more concise.

Check before sending: Openings are real; no price promised by accident; nothing you can't deliver.
Record it: Log the lead in LEADS (Stage = New Lead → Contacted). Set Next Follow-Up for tomorrow.

02 • Turn customer details into a quote draft

When to use	Gather first
After you price the job in QUOTE BUILDER and want a clear written quote.	The QUOTE SUMMARY text from QUOTE BUILDER (row 39), what's included, add-ons, and how long the quote is valid.

Use my business profile above. Turn the job summary below into a clear, friendly written quote I can email.

Job summary from my quote calculator:
[paste the QUOTE SUMMARY text]

What's included in this service (my checklist): [paste or summarize]
Not included: [e.g., inside oven unless added, exterior windows, biohazard]
Quote valid until: [date]
How to book: [link / reply / call]

Format:

- Subject line
- 2-sentence intro using their first name
- "Your clean includes" (bullets, max 8)
- Price block: price before tax, any discounts, tax line ONLY if I listed one, total
- What happens next (3 steps)
- Sign-off with my first name

Use ONLY the prices I gave you. Do not add, round or change any number. If something is unclear, write [CHECK] instead of guessing.

Check before sending: Every number matches QUOTE BUILDER exactly. Remove any [CHECK] markers after you fix them.
Record it: LEADS: enter Quote Value, set Stage = Quote Sent, set Next Follow-Up in 2 days.

03 • Quote follow-up

When to use	Gather first
2 days after sending a quote with no booking yet.	First name, service quoted, the quote total, any concern they mentioned, one open appointment.

Use my business profile. Write a short follow-up to a customer who received a quote but hasn't booked.

- First name: [name]
- Service quoted: [service] for [price]
- Sent on: [date]
- Anything they mentioned (concern, timing, budget): [notes or "nothing"]
- An opening I can offer: [day/time]

Rules: helpful, never pushy; one sentence that re-states the value in their terms; offer the opening; invite questions; under 70 words. No fake urgency, no discounts unless I list one here: [discount or "none"].
Give me a text version and an email version.

Check before sending: No pressure tactics; any discount is one you actually approve.
Record it: LEADS: update Last Contact and Next Follow-Up (+3 days). Stage = Follow-Up.

04 • No-response follow-up (last touch)

When to use	Gather first
After 2-3 unanswered follow-ups. Closes the loop politely and keeps the door open.	First name, what they asked about, how many times you've followed up.

Use my business profile. Write a final, polite check-in to a lead who hasn't replied after [number] messages.
 They asked about: [service].
 Goals: make it easy to say "not now" or "yes"; no guilt; mention they can reach us any time; under 50 words.
 Offer one line they can reply with, e.g., "Reply 1 to book, 2 for later."
 Write 2 options.

Check before sending: Short and respectful. After this, stop messaging unless they reply.
Record it: If no reply in 5 days: Stage = Lost/Declined, Lost Reason = No response.

05 • Appointment confirmation

When to use	Gather first
When a job is booked, and again the day before.	First name, service, date, arrival window, cleaner name, prep notes, how payment works.

Use my business profile. Write (a) a booking confirmation and (b) a day-before reminder for this job:

- First name: [name]
- Service: [service] at [street name only – no full address]
- Date and arrival window: [date, window]
- Cleaner(s): [first names]
- Prep we ask for: [e.g., pets secured, clutter picked up, parking]
- Payment: [how/when, as I describe it]

Each message under 70 words, friendly, with a clear way to reschedule. Do NOT include door codes, lockbox codes or alarm details.

Check before sending: Date/time match JOBS. No access codes in any message.
Record it: JOBS: confirm Date, Start Time, Worker, Status = Scheduled.

06 • Rescheduling message

When to use	Gather first
You need to move a job (illness, weather, overbooking) or the customer asks to.	Who is rescheduling, reason (brief, honest), two new options, any goodwill gesture you approve.

Use my business profile. Write a message to reschedule a cleaning.

- First name: [name]
 - Original appointment: [date/time]
 - Who requested the change: [us / customer]
 - Reason (keep it brief and honest): [reason]
 - New options: [option 1], [option 2]
 - Goodwill gesture (only if I list one): [e.g., none / small credit]
- Apologize once if we caused it, offer the two options, ask them to reply with their choice. Under 80 words.
- If the customer is changing late, refer to my policy in neutral words: [paste your policy summary] – do not add fees I haven't listed.

Check before sending: Policy wording matches YOUR written policy. No new fees invented.

Record it: JOBS: set old row Status = Rescheduled; add a new row with the new date.

07 • Review request

When to use	Gather first
Same day or next day after a job that went well (QC pass, happy customer).	First name, one specific thing done well, your review link.

Use my business profile. Write a short review request to a customer after a cleaning.

- First name: [name]
- One specific thing we did well or they mentioned: [detail]
- Review link: [link]

Rules: thank them; mention the specific detail; ask if they'd share their experience; include the link; under 60 words.

Do NOT offer any reward, discount or entry in exchange for a review, and do not ask only for 5-star reviews.

Give a text and an email version.

Check before sending: No incentive for reviews; ask for honest feedback only.

Record it: REVIEWS: add a row (Status = Requested). The Action column tells you when to remind.

08 • Respond to a review

When to use	Gather first
Within 48 hours of any review — positive, mixed or negative.	The review text, star rating, what actually happened (facts only).

Use my business profile. Draft a public reply to this review.
 Rating: [stars]
 Review text: [paste]
 What actually happened (private facts for context – do NOT repeat personal details publicly): [notes]

Rules:

- Positive review: thank them by first name, mention one detail, 2–3 sentences.
- Mixed or negative: thank them, acknowledge the experience without arguing, give no private details, invite them to contact [phone/email] to make it right. 3–4 sentences.
- Never admit legal fault or discuss damage claims, insurance or refunds publicly – say we'll follow up directly.
- No keywords stuffing, no copy-paste feel.

Check before sending: Calm, short, no private details, no admissions or promises about claims.

Record it: REVIEWS: You Replied? = Yes. Log any problem in QUALITY CONTROL → Issue Log.

09 • Referral request

When to use	Gather first
After a 5-star review, a compliment, or the 3rd-4th recurring visit.	First name, what they like about the service, your referral thank-you (if any).

Use my business profile. Write a referral request to a happy customer.

- First name: [name]
- What they've told us they like: [detail]
- Our thank-you for referrals (only if I offer one, in my words): [e.g., a service credit / none]

Make it easy: one sentence they can forward to a friend, plus how the friend should mention them. Under 80 words. No pressure.

Check before sending: The thank-you matches what you actually offer, and any rules you set.

Record it: FOLLOW-UPS: log it. When a referral arrives, add it to REFERRALS.

10 • Reactivate a past customer

When to use	Gather first
CUSTOMERS shows 'Reactivate' (no job for 90+ days by default).	First name, last service and date, anything new you offer, upcoming openings.

Use my business profile. Write a friendly check-in to a past customer we haven't cleaned for since [month].

- First name: [name]
- Last service: [service]
- Something useful or new (optional): [e.g., seasonal deep clean, new recurring slots]
- Openings: [dates]

Tone: genuine, no guilt-tripping, under 70 words. Offer one easy next step. If I list an offer, include it exactly: [offer or "none"].

Check before sending: Only real offers. Respect anyone who asked not to be contacted.
Record it: FOLLOW-UPS: Type = Reactivation. Update CUSTOMERS notes with the result.

11 • Google Business Profile post

When to use	Gather first
Weekly. Keeps your profile active and gives searchers a reason to call.	Topic (tip, service spotlight, seasonal offer, team highlight), service area, call to action.

Use my business profile. Write 3 Google Business Profile posts (each 80–150 words) about: [topic].
 Each post: a useful local-sounding opening line, one practical tip or benefit, a clear call to action ([Book / Call / Learn more]) and the service area.
 No phone numbers inside the text, no exaggerated claims ("best in town"), no made-up statistics or awards. Suggest a photo idea for each.

Check before sending: Claims are true; photos are your own (with permission if people/homes are shown).
Record it: Track bookings that mention Google in LEADS → Lead Source.

12 • Facebook post

When to use	Gather first
2–3 times a week; local groups only where the group rules allow business posts.	Post goal (trust, booking, recurring, referral), topic, any offer, photo you have.

Use my business profile. Write 3 Facebook posts for my cleaning business.
 Goal: [trust / bookings / recurring plans / referrals]
 Topic: [e.g., 5-minute bathroom reset, what a deep clean includes, meet our team lead]
 Offer (only if real): [offer or "none"]
 Each post: a hook line that names a specific situation, 3–5 short lines of value, one call to action. Conversational, local, no hashtag spam (max 2).

Check before sending: Offer details and dates are correct.
Record it: Use LEADS → Lead Source = Facebook so you can measure results on MONTHLY.

13 • Instagram caption

When to use	Gather first
With every before/after, team or tip post.	What the photo/video shows, the room/problem, what you did, call to action.

Use my business profile. Write 3 Instagram captions for a post that shows: [describe photo/video].
 Each caption: first line under 10 words that stops the scroll; 2–4 short lines on what was done and why it matters; a call to action ([link in bio / DM "CLEAN"]); 5–8 relevant hashtags mixing local and service tags.
 Do not claim results the photo doesn't show. No customer names or addresses.

Check before sending: You have the customer's permission to share photos of their home.
Record it: Track DMs as leads in LEADS (Source = Instagram).

14 · Answer a service FAQ

When to use	Gather first
A customer asks a question you answer often (supplies, pets, keys, what's included).	The question, your actual policy or practice in plain words.

Use my business profile. A customer asked: "[question]".
 Our actual practice (use only this, don't add details): [your answer in rough notes]
 Write a clear, friendly answer under 90 words. If my notes don't cover something they asked, write [ASK OWNER] instead of guessing.
 Then turn it into a reusable FAQ entry (question + 2–3 sentence answer) for my website.

Check before sending: Matches your policy exactly; remove [ASK OWNER] after deciding.
Record it: Save good answers in your website FAQ and SETTINGS notes.

15 · Commercial cleaning proposal draft

When to use	Gather first
An office, clinic, studio or retail space asks for a proposal.	Business type, size, restrooms, frequency, scope from your walkthrough, price from QUOTE BUILDER, start date.

Use my business profile. Draft a professional cleaning proposal.
 Client: [business name, contact first name]
 Space: [type], [sq ft], [restrooms], [special areas]
 Visit frequency and timing: [e.g., 3x weekly after 6 PM]
 Scope from my walkthrough: [paste notes]
 Price per visit and monthly estimate (from my calculator): [numbers]
 Start date: [date]

Sections: 1) Summary, 2) Scope of work by area (bullets), 3) Schedule, 4) Pricing (use my numbers exactly), 5) Supplies & equipment (as I describe), 6) Quality checks and how to reach us, 7) Next steps.
 Mark anything that needs a contract term, insurance detail or legal language as [OWNER/PROFESSIONAL TO COMPLETE] – do not write those terms yourself.

Check before sending: Prices match QUOTE BUILDER. Contract, insurance and legal terms are completed by you with professional advice where needed.

Record it: LEADS: Stage = Quote Sent. If won, add to CUSTOMERS, PROPERTIES and RECURRING.

16 • Employee task instructions

When to use	Gather first
Turning your notes into a clear job sheet or task for a cleaner.	Job details (service, rooms, special requests), customer preferences, priorities. No access codes.

Rewrite my rough notes into clear task instructions for a cleaner.

Job: [service], [rooms / areas]

Customer preferences: [e.g., unscented products, skip office]

Priorities if time runs short: [1, 2, 3]

My notes: [paste]

Format: numbered steps by room, a "Do NOT" list, a "Before you leave" checklist, and a line to report problems to [owner/phone].

Plain language, short sentences. Don't add chemical-mixing instructions or safety rules – I'll attach our own product labels/safety sheets.

Check before sending: Instructions match your service standard; access details stay out of the document.

Record it: STAFF & TASKS: add the task. Attach the CLIENT-FORMS Employee Job Sheet.

17 • Customer complaint response

When to use	Gather first
A customer reports a missed area, late arrival, damage concern or billing question.	The complaint (their words), facts you know, what you can offer (re-clean window, call).

Use my business profile. Draft a reply to this customer concern.

Their message: [paste]

Facts I know: [what happened, job date, cleaner]

What I can offer (only these): [e.g., re-clean within 24–48 hours / a call today]

Rules: thank them; acknowledge their experience without arguing; say exactly what happens next and when; keep it under 120 words.

If the concern involves damage, injury, a refund demand or anything legal/insurance-related: do NOT admit fault or promise payment – say we're looking into it and will contact them by [time]. Flag it to me with [OWNER REVIEW].

Check before sending: Offer is one you approved. Damage/insurance matters handled by you, with professional advice if needed.

Record it: QUALITY CONTROL → Issue Log: record it, the action and the resolved date.

18 • Weekly marketing ideas

When to use	Gather first
Monday planning. Pairs well with your MONTHLY and DASHBOARD numbers.	Last week's leads by source, open recurring slots, season/events, one goal.

Act as a practical marketing assistant for a local cleaning business. Use my business profile. This week's facts (from my dashboard): leads [number], top lead source [source], open recurring slots [number], season/local events [notes].
 Goal this week: [e.g., fill 3 recurring slots / get 5 reviews / reach property managers]
 Give me: 5 low-cost actions ranked by likely impact for that goal, each with the exact first step, time needed, and how I'll measure it in my workbook (which sheet/column). Avoid paid ads unless I ask. No guaranteed results.

Check before sending: Pick 1-2 actions, not 5. Measure them on the DASHBOARD next Monday.
Record it: FOLLOW-UPS: schedule the actions; check MONTHLY → Lead Source results.

What AI should not do for you

These workflows deliberately exclude decisions that need professional judgment or legal responsibility. Don't use AI to decide:

- Contract terms, liability, cancellation-fee enforceability or anything legal.
- Taxes, deductions, sales-tax rules, payroll or worker classification.
- Insurance coverage, damage claims or refunds tied to claims.
- Chemical mixing, safety procedures or regulatory compliance.
- Hiring, firing, pay rates or discipline decisions.

Use AI to organize your thinking and draft communication; make the decision yourself, with professional advice where needed.

Plain-language disclaimer

This product is a set of spreadsheet tools, templates and writing prompts that help you organize a cleaning business. It is not legal, tax, accounting, payroll, employment, insurance, safety or regulatory advice, and it does not replace a qualified professional.

- Prices and profits are estimates. The calculators turn YOUR assumptions into numbers. They do not know your local market, and the example assumptions included are starting points, not recommended or market rates.
- No earnings promises. Using this system does not guarantee more customers, revenue or profit. The demo business and all its numbers are fictional.
- Templates need your review. Policy, proposal and agreement-style templates are customizable starting points. Have anything you will rely on legally reviewed by a qualified professional where you operate.

- Taxes, mileage, payroll and worker classification rules vary by location. Confirm them with a qualified professional.
- Safety: always follow product labels, safety data sheets and local requirements. Checklists in this kit are quality checklists, not safety programs.
- AI tools can produce wrong or made-up information. Review every draft. Do not paste sensitive data (access codes, payment details, ID numbers) into AI tools.
- Privacy: you are responsible for how you collect, store and use customer information and for getting permission before sharing photos of customers' homes.